Hear Lot Sales Talk But Sales Were Nix

Unpaid Aldermen Hesitate To Spend Money

Monday night was a full evening of sales talks but there was little action as the members of Arlington Heights village board delayed until subsequent meetings definite action on.

Police radio.
Non-rust gadget for water tower.

Purchase of new pumps.

New bookkeeping equipment.

The cost of radio varies between $300 and $800. Replacement of pumps at the sewage treatment plant will cost between $350 and $2,000 depending on the number of pumps that will be replaced. Purchase of the entire set-up for the installation of a modern bookkeeping machinery would entail the expenditure of $1,587.38.

Included among the $2,805.36 bills approved for payment that evening were interest on past due notes due General Fire Truck Corporation and $600 quarterly salaries due the members of the village board, which are unpaid due to the condition of the general fund.

In presenting the data regarding the bookkeeping equipment, Wm. F. Meyer, Jr. called the attention of the board to the fact that provision had been made in the present budget for the purchase of the items needed for the handling of the water accounts. He asked that the board take some definite action that evening. Included in the set-up is a calculator, addressograph outfit, and bookkeeping typewriter, with necessary blank forms.

The first "salesman" to appear before the board was Mr. Fletcher, radio expert of Sheriff O'Brien's office. He outlined the advantages of both the city owned station and the connection with the county police radio.

The chief advantages to the municipality in the latter case would be services of two additional police cars and four officers in case any emergency arises within the municipality. Mr. Fletcher stated that two county cars are on constant patrol within a short distance of Arlington Heights.

The only expense to the municipality in the county hook-up is the installation of a two-way set in local police car and telephone charges for relaying messages to the Morton Grove station.

The second sales talk was in the form of four bids for new pumps needed at the sewage treatment station. Standard Power Equipment bid $485 for replacing one pump. American Well Works bid not over $425 per unit for each pump changed. Chicago Pump Co. bid $384 per unit and Economy Pump Co., $785 per unit. The bids were referred to the city engineer for recommendation.

A comprehensive report of the treasurer's office was read and referred to the finance committee.

Payment of two bills for supplies used on Campbell st. WPA project was authorized.

Water department was authorized to shut off water to all consumers who have not paid Oct. 1 bills.

Attorney Thal reported that a petition for rezoning North Ridge between Oakton and Elm, accompanied by a deposit to cover expenses had been forwarded to Chas. Pingel, chairman of the Board of Appeals with notice of required public hearing.

Paul Incapero was informally made custodian of the village dump, with permission to erect a small building on the property, the board accepting his offer to properly police the dump.

"Reds" Issue

Ultimatum To

"We" Finns

It has happened. The "Reds" broadcast an ultimatum directed against "We Finns" in last week's Des Plaines Suburban Times and war appears inevitable.

The Des Plaines Publishers demand satisfaction, claiming that the Paddock Printers have staged an economic war against them by bowling with teams from "other countries," such as Libertyville, Glen Ellyn, etc., and neglecting to send its team to the league.

The Arlington printers when they dare to show their bowling balls at the Des Plaines alleys.

The matter will not be referred to any world court, because "We Finns" are not afraid of any "Red" camp. The members of the Paddock Printers have a way of picking up spurs and strikes so unexpectedly that defeat of the "Reds" is certain.

Boys, if the publication of this leaflet does not strike terror to the hearts of your loved ones and yourselves, do not delay that drive any longer.

We Finns, the 1939 champs, are peace lovers, but have accepted all challenges to date and are willing to engage the "enemy" at any time.

A credited representative properly authorized to enter into negotiations will be guaranteed safe conduct to Arlington Heights.

Child Killed; Mother Hurt On Way To Florida

Icy Roads Blamed
For Fatal Accident
Near Danville

Ann Hickey, seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hickey, 109 S. Haddon st., Arlington Heights, was instantly killed and her mother was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon when the car in which they were riding was hit by another car near Danville, Ill.

Mrs. Hickey and young daughter were accompanying Mrs. Hickey's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Farstad, on a month's trip to Florida. They had left Chicago early that morning and were traveling on route 41 four miles south of Attica, Ind., when the accident occurred. Mr. Farstad was driving. Due to the snow the car had gotten onto the road shoulder. In attempting to get the car back on the highway, it skidded around and was struck by a car traveling in the opposite direction. The occupant of the latter was uninjured. The Farstad car was thrown into the ditch.

Mrs. Hickey lies in a Danville hospital with a fractured pelvis and right arm and other injuries, the extent of which is not yet known. Due to exposure the physician fears pneumonia.

Mr. Farstad sustained a skull fracture and concussions. He is the least injured of any of the three who remain in the hospital and he and his wife, Mrs. Hickey, were brought to Arlington Heights. The funeral will be held from the Presbyterian church.

Ann was in the second grade at the Arlington elementary school. Other members of the family are Estella and John, who both attend the high school.

Woman Killed Near Des Plaines

Mrs. Elizabeth Dancer, of Hinsdale, was killed and her husband seriously injured early Wednesday afternoon, at the intersection of Route 58 and River Road. Also injured was John Westerhoff, also of Hinsdale, who was a passenger in the Dancer car.

J. J. Allen, 65, a Chicago salesman, was traveling west on Route 58, and failed to stop at the intersection. Allen is also seriously injured.

Ice Causes Death

Marvin Hinz, 22, Albion, Neb., was killed and two men companions were seriously injured at Barrington Wednesday afternoon when their car went out of control after striking a piece of ice. The car jumped a ditch and was wrecked without striking any object except a small tree.

Couple Injured

When Crossing Street

Evelyn Bestmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Bestmann, Palatine rd., was painfully injured when she and her escort, Edwin Bartz of Niles Center, were struck by an automobile while crossing Sheridan rd. last Saturday evening.

The young couple had attended the Granada theatre and were crossing the street to where their car was parked when the accident occurred.

Miss Bestmann was taken to the Edgewater hospital where examination disclosed her left leg was broken just below the knee. She also suffered numerous bruises. She was later removed to the Ravenswood hospital.

Mr. Bartz was also badly bruised and a severe cut on his head necessitated seven stitches.

Schimming Oil Co.

"Steps Out" With
New Truck

The firm, Schimming Oil Co., is sporting a new truck, bearing, of course, the Texaco emblem. "It's as classy in appearance as Texaco products are in quality," says Geo. Schimming whose service is winning new customers for Texaco and the Schimming Oil Co.

With the added equipment one truck will be used exclusively for gas while fuel oil will be handled in special trucks which are equipped with meters insuring full count delivery.

Take it from this writer, Mr. Schimming has reason to be proud of his truck and the reputation that is being given his firm by the farmers and local fuel oil users.

Local Farmers Attended
Convention Last Week

Delegates from the Cook County Farm Bureau to the I.A.A. convention held in Chicago last week included the following from the northern part of the county: Henry Eichholz, Des Plaines; Fred Pfingsten, Schaumburg; E. A. Schoppe, Bensenville; alternates, Louis W. Pohlman, Palatine; Conrad Horn, Bensenville; Fred W. Porep, Palatine; Henry Gewecke, Bensenville.

Officer Ira Melbourn, following in the footsteps of the other police officers entertained the flu this week. He can not understand why police officers should be such easy prey to the "bug."

American Money Buys The World In Mexico

—Says Flentie

Mayor J. D. Flentie and Fred Hinz of Arlington Heights returned home Friday night from Mexico City with tales of easy money that has given a lot of boys the "itch fever" to go down there with a few dollars in their pocket and sit on top of the world.

Oh, it is not as easy as all that, but when $20 in American money means $120 in Mex., the reader can understand why J. D. and Fred had such a great time.

A common nickel given a penny for watching your car is in reality a big tip. The mayor and his companion traveled 150 miles south of Mexico City to Taxco in order that J. D. might satisfy his curiosity to see how rubber trees grow and to view coffee under cultivation.

When his car was parked in a garage in Mexico, an Elmhurst car was next door. On a sight seeing trip out of Mexico City two fellow travelers came from Evanston. Mr. Flentie really realized that it is a small world when, as he was registering at Huey Long's former home in New Orleans, he discovered the previous visitor was Mrs. C. Newberg, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Newberg was leaving the building as the mayor was arriving.

The trip to the Rio Grande valley would not be complete without a stop-over at the Wayman home in the valley, where they arrived a few days after the freeze-up to discover that although leaves of fruit trees were damaged, 80% of the fruit was not hurt by the frost. Arlington visitors brought home a few oranges from the trees of Harry Knaack and they were not damaged. Here Julius greeted his old schoolmate, Edward Meyer.

One of Mr. Flentie's guides in Mexico, waxed eloquent when for the first time in his 50 years of life he saw snow on the adjoining mountain. Parrots and other birds froze to death on account of the low temperature.

Funds Needed To Safeguard Children's Health

Dental Clinics Must Stop Unless Local
Persons Hear Plea

Arlington Heights public health committee announced this week that dental clinics for school children will be interrupted Thursday because of lack of funds.

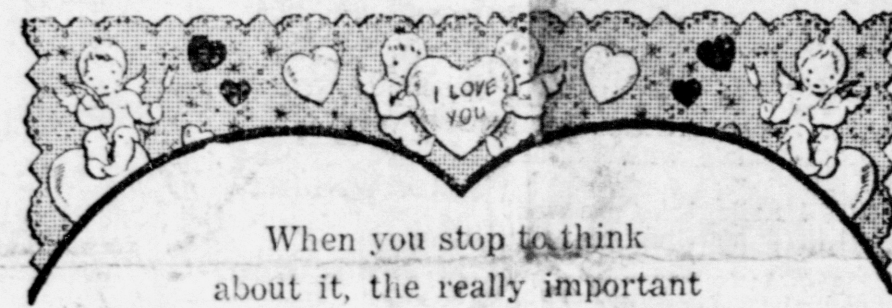

The health committee has been able to finance 22 hour clinics in the office of local dentists. These clinics have been able to treat elementary school children whose parents were financially unable to give their children the care they should have.

"These clinics have given an excellent start to the work of repairing the teeth of these needy children, but it is somewhat less than creditable if these children and the remaining children on whom work has not even been started are not given a chance to grow up to be healthy citizens, because they are carrying with them that potential trouble maker, a mouthful of diseased teeth," according to a statement issued by the committee. Their hope is that some organization will be interested in the project, and find it possible to finance it.

"If no additional funds are available this work will be permanently discontinued on Thursday of this week."

The Arlington Heights public health committee officers are: Mrs. Paul Carroll, chairman, Mrs. John Allen, vice chairman, Arthur McElhose, secretary and treasurer, C. V. Baker, and K. L. Busse are co-chairmen of the finance committee.

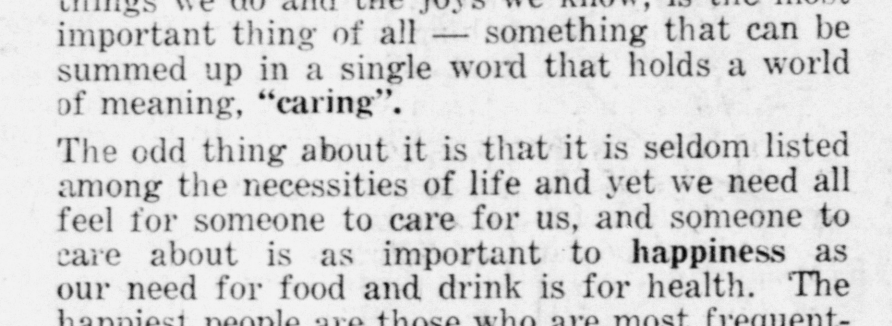

"Any of these officers will be glad to discuss this matter with any interested party or organization at any time," continued the statement.

When you stop to think about it, the really important parts of all our lives are pretty much the same. And linked inseparably with them, the things we do and the joys we know, is the most important thing of all — something that can be summed up in a single word that holds a world of meaning, "caring."

The odd thing about it is that it is seldom listed among the necessities of life and yet we need all feel for someone to care for us, and someone to care about is as important to happiness as our need for food and drink is for health. The happiest people are those who are most frequently reminded there is "someone who cares". There is a kind of happiness that comes as a result of giving proof that we "care" which must be experienced to be understood. And the most important day of all for remembering is the day that is frankly and unashamedly the day of days for those we love, St. Valentine's own day, February 14.

This is the day to say, "I love you"! the day when tradition has made every remembrance, whether a card or a gift, regardless of size or price,
a silent eloquent ambassador, a message-bearer to those for whom you care, to bring them happiness by reminding them that you do.

Modernism was described by the Lutheran theologian as the No. 1 internal enemy, being, according to Dr. Maier, a perfunctory denial of the divinity of Jesus and a sophisticated rejection of Biblical truth. Doctrinal indifference, Dr. Maier added, is inimical to the church because it encourages the delusion that it makes no difference what you believe, so long as you believe something. Worldliness in the churches, he concluded, often lead to activities by which church organizations bring censure upon the name of Christ and the church itself.
The noted evangelist called for a definite "inner reformation" if the churches are to emerge stronger and purer from "these problem-weighted years." He urged the

How to Avoid EYESTRAIN

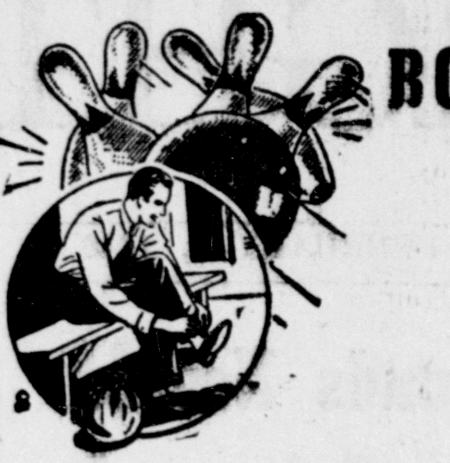

No matter how bright the light or how large the type, your eyes cannot see without strain unless they are in good condition. Eyestrain is an enemy of health. It causes nervousness, indigestion, and headaches and unless it is cured for in time, it might seriously injure delicate eye muscles. There is only one sure way to guard against eyestrain—have your eyes examined. Sometimes you yourself don't even know when this common trouble is taking its toll.

He uses that old southpaw swing. It really don't mean anything. He bowls about six times a week. I think that he is quite a shiek.

He's a graduate of Northwestern U. Pitched some baseball for them too. Might have been a big league star. I know he didn't miss it far.

Plenty of talent he does "con." Why, he instructs at the Aragon! Works in the shop for his dad. I don't imagine that's so bad.

Guess he knows a girl named Ann. Likes to see her when he can. At least it cannot be denied, "He don't go south for a ride."

St. James Young People Hold Regular Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the St. James young people was held Tuesday at 8 p. m. The club by-laws were read and amendments were added. A monthly communion Sunday was decided upon which is to be held every last Sunday of the month. Father Stier, spiritual advisor, gave a few interesting words to the club about Lenten duties. The meeting was then adjourned.

After the adjournment the entertainment took place with games, prizes, and dancing. Miss Virginia Coy and Mr. Francis Hirsberger were crowned Queen and King of hearts. Being so close to Valentine's day, the entertainment was in the form of a valentine party.

Later in the evening refreshments were served of cake and cocoa. About 40 members were present.

Those who have seen the films are most enthusiastic, and are anxiously awaiting another opportunity of viewing these outstanding pictures. The general public is invited to attend this meeting, for which there is no charge.

Costly Progress It will cost $17,500,000 to relocate a railroad whose tracks will be flooded by the new Shasta dam in California.

It Happened Here

The little boy, permitted to say grace at the company dinner, repeated his little verse and looked up. "My grandma taught me that word," he announced, proudly. All little folks should have grandmas, preferably grandmas who know a word and can teach it to a restless, uneasy generation, grown amemic on "pep," "glamour," "thrill" and so on. It is interesting to note how many objects, familiar to our childhood, are curiosities to the children of today. A little city girl, visiting out of town, was thrilled to watch the installation of the wood stove; she had never seen a fuel-eating stove before in all her eight years. Poor little steam-heated children! Probably never saw a boot-jack or a soap stone or a buffalo robe or arctic or a nubia or a husking pin or a cord of wood or even a smoke house—some one just left a package of hickory cured bacon at the door. Oh, boy, oh, boy! the aroma of the smoke house under the honey locust! . . . Our Colorado correspondent writes: "During the most bitter weather, our white kitten stayed all cuddled down on the roan calf's back, or when the calf got up and frisked around, the kitten found a warm sleeping place under an old setting hen of E's."

February First Some one left the door wide and February walked right in; She didn't take her rubbers off—her tracks were black as sin. She was dragged, gray and grimy; past hope or relief, It was plain she was some beggar, tramp or thief; No mopping, scolding, sweeping can drive her away. She has her credentials and has come to stay.

S'Amuser.

Again the height of the Realtors brought them out on the winning end of the score with Algonquin, 40-35, Wednesday night.

Laseke and Weisgerber had their own way under the basket and the smaller visitors tried in vain to check these two six footers. One casualty occurred when, with only 10 seconds left to play Kopplin injured his eye. This won't keep the "Duke" out of any games, however, and he will be on the floor when the game starts next Wednesday when the highly touted Elmhurst team invade the local camp.

American Boy Magazine Companion To Thousands

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY, the sort of reading matter boys like best. THE AMERICAN BOY sells on most newsstands at 25c a copy. Subscription prices are $2.00 for one year or $3.50 for three years. Foreign rates 50c a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

Halibut Throws Surprise In Barrymore Scene

Joe Turp and his good wife, Ethel, make their screen debut on Saturday at the Catlow Theatre in "Joe and Ethel Turp Call on the President," and their daddy, Damon Runyon, should be proud of them. It is a picture to rank alongside of such other Runyon successes as "A Lady for a Day" and "Little Miss Marker." Lewis Stone as the president lends that appealing, sympathetic and whimsical tone to the Chief Executive that has endeared him to millions as "Judge Hardy."

One of the most imposing casts of the season, headed by Marlene Dietrich and James Stewart, will be seen in Universal's "Destry Rides Again," opening on Sunday at the Catlow Theatre.

When an actor goes fishing in a picture it's nothing new in Hollywood, but when the fish interrupt his acting it's different. When audiences see the surprised expression on Lionel Barrymore's face when he catches a fish in "The Secret of Dr. Kildare," coming to the Catlow Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday with Lew Ayres, they'll see not acting but the real thing.

Barrymore, as the veteran Dr. Gillespie, goes fishing on an enforced vacation in the story. So the cameras went to the pier at Redondo, a resort near Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Barrymore affixed bait, lowered his hook, and went on to dialogue with George Reed, playing his orderly. Suddenly there was a jerk. A six-pound halibut had grabbed the hook.

'Little Accident' Is Laugh Riot; Hugh Herbert Baby Sandy in High Comedy

Matched in a contest of "Woo-Woo" versus "Goo-Goo," Hugh Herbert and baby Sandy compete for laugh honors in the Universal comedy, "Little Accident," which comes Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to the Palatine Theatre.

Sandy, who skyrocketed into public favor as the baby boy in "East Side of Heaven" and "Unexpected Father," appears as a girl for the first time since the beginning of her screen career. She is said to be an ideal choice for teaming with the whimsical comedian.

New Love Duo
Florence Rice and Richard Carlson carry the romantic interest in the gaily paced film, and featured players in the supporting cast also include Joy Hodges, Edgar Kennedy, Etienne Girardot, Fritz Feld and Ernest Truax.

All the color and pageantry of India are caught in the spectacular climax of Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Rains Came," the great Louis Bromfield novel, starring Myrna Loy, Tyrone Power and George Brent, which is co-featured with "Little Accident."

The sensational spy melodrama, "U-Boat 29," will run at the Palatine at 6:10; Sat. at 2:00; Sun and fine Theatre on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Torn from today's headlines, the thrilling film features Conrad Veidt, Valerie Hobson Showing 4 days at the Palatine Theatre—Sunday through Wednesday lovely Brenda Joyce (below, center) is making a sensational screen debut in this film company—with Myrna Loy, Tyrone Power and George Brent, stars of the production of "The Rains Came," co-featured with "Little Accident," featuring Baby Sandy and Hugh Herbert.

and Sebastian Shaw in a tale of counter-espionage and submarine torpedoing during the course of an Anglo-German war. Michael Powell directed and Irving Asher produced "U-Boat 29."

America's first fun family has its funniest film to date. We mean the Jones Family in "Too Busy To Work," the latest of the popular 24th Century-Fox comedies, which plays at the Palatine Theatre with "U-Boat 29."

When Dad neglects business and frolics for his mayoralty duties, Ma counters by becoming an actress—and the hilarity runs high.

Because Monday is Lincoln's birthday, the Des Plaines Theatre announces a special holiday matinee for that date.

Currently the Des Plaines offers "The Return of Dr. X" with Humphrey Bogart and "Cal A Messenger" with the Dead End Kids vs. the Little Tough Guys. An added treat on the program now showing is a Pete Smith novelty short subject on bowling, called "Set 'Em Up" featuring those two nationally known keggers, Ned Day and Andy Varipapa.

Maywood Man Seeks Democratic Nomination For Legislature

Petitions are being circulated throughout the Seventh Senatorial District for John Joseph Ryan, 1407 South 17th ave., Maywood, who seeks the Democratic nomination for State Representative. Mr. Ryan, a real estate and insurance broker, believes that something can and must be done to correct the huge real estate tax delinquency throughout this large area and improve transportation facilities for all suburbanites in Cook county.

Maturity Periods

Broccoli, kohlrabi and sweet corn need about 100 days for fullest maturity. Brussels sprouts, carrots, bush lima beans, beets, okra, cucumbers, and endive will do nicely with 60, 75 and 80 days to grow. Then, in the 50 to 70 day maturing group are kale, spinach, mustard (for greens), Swiss chard, Chinese cabbage, and turnips. Radishes need about 30 days only.

January Buick Sales Setting New Records

An all time January sales record is in prospect for the Buick division of General Motors Corporation as dealers reported retail deliveries during the second 10 days of January 48.5 per cent over a year ago.

According to information received by Harry Knaack, Arlington Heights dealer, domestic sales during the period were 6,429 units, comparing with 5,653 in the previous 10 days and with 4,328 in the corresponding period last year. January sales reported to date totaled 12,082 units against 7,954 last year, an increase of 4,128 cars or 51.9 per cent during the 20-day period.

This is the heaviest Buick volume for this season on record, Mr. Hufstader said, and maintains the high rate established by this division of the corporation since new models were introduced last fall. A total of 100,473 of the 1940 models have been sold at retail in the United States compared with 71,275 in the corresponding period following introduction of the 1939 models, he said. This is a gain of 41 per cent in the first four months.

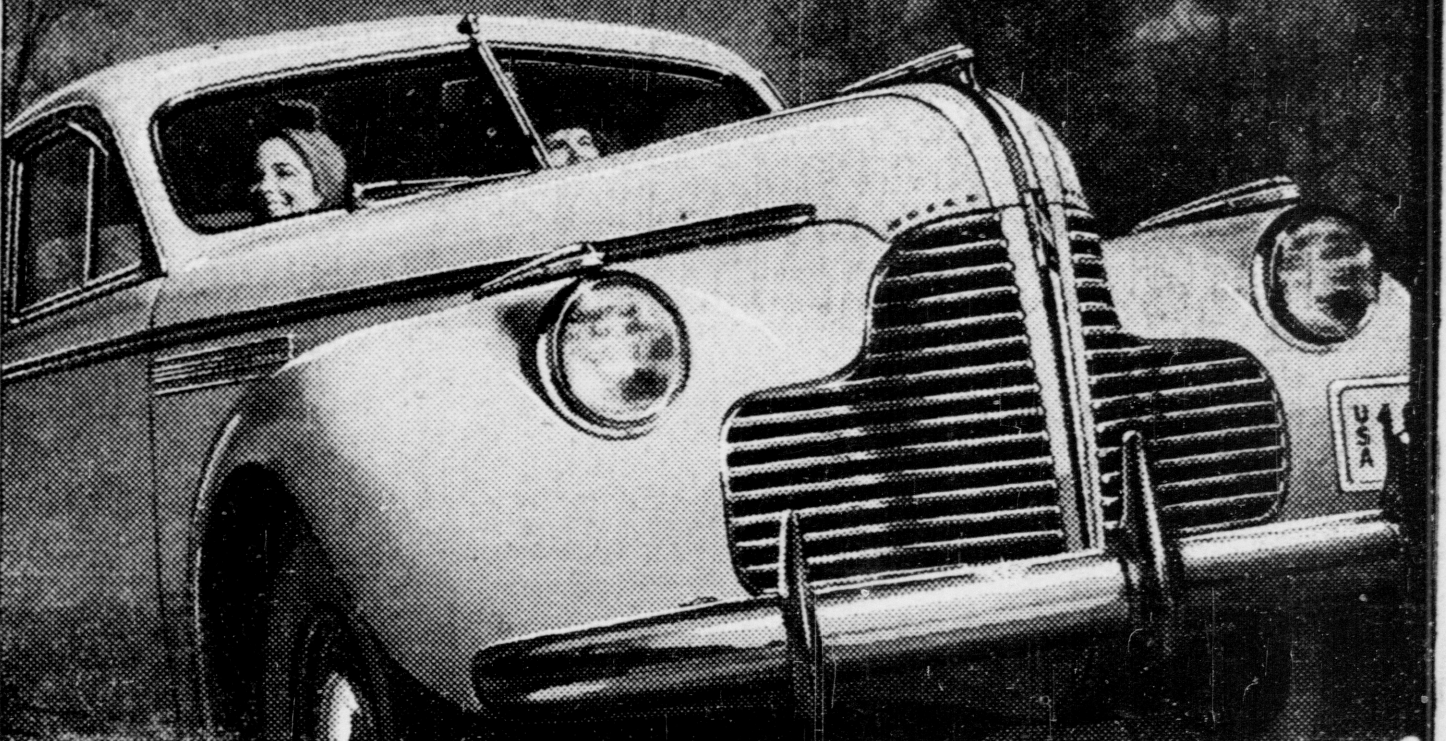

He said heavy increases in Buick registrations were reported in 25 key cities during December, the aggregate gain in these points being 42.3 per cent. In 15 of the 25 cities registrations of this make ranged from 10 to 21.2 per cent of all new cars, while the average for the 25 cities was 12.1 per cent of the industry. Buick registered 21.2 per cent of all new cars titled in metropolitan New York during December and 15.1 per cent of the industry's registrations in Boston, Mr. Hufstader said.

First ten in passenger car registrations in the United States for the year 1939 were:

Pos.	1939	Pos.	1938
1	572,225 Chev.	443,591	1

It's the Early Bird that gets the Fun

The model illustrated is the BUICK SUPER model 51 four-door touring sedan $1109 delivered at Flint, Mich. White sidewall tires additional.*

ONE of these days the itch is going to hit you to get out and get in on the fun a Buick can be in the spring-time.

You're going to feel an irrepressible yen to touch off that husky, sweet-singing Dynaflex power plant and swing out in gentle coil-spring comfort to take in the fresh spring landscape.

Maybe, like others we know of, you've even got the model picked out, and are just "waiting a few weeks" to do something definite about it.

But may we emphasize, in purely friendly interest, that a lot of other people probably have the same idea.

And that when they start buying in droves—as they do every year about the 1st of March—even Buick's big factory has trouble keeping up with them.

Help Promote Safety—Dim Your Lights When Passing

Of course, we're doing all we can to be ready for everyone.

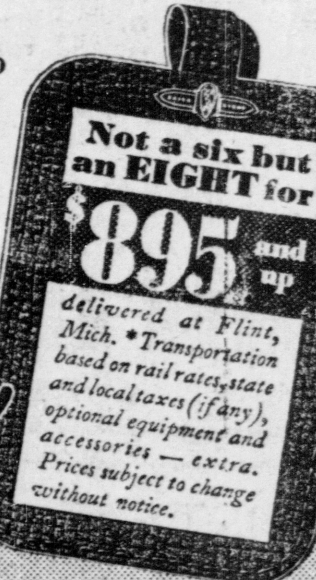

But you can get only so many cars in a warehouse.

And a full warehouse can empty awfully fast.

And what with everybody wanting Buicks this season, we can't say how long we can promise the delivery we can give now.

So why not play the early bird this year? Why not get the jump on your neighbor and be driving your Buick while he's still talking about getting his?

You've nothing to lose, a lot of fun to gain—and you'll find the address of your Buick dealer in the phone book.

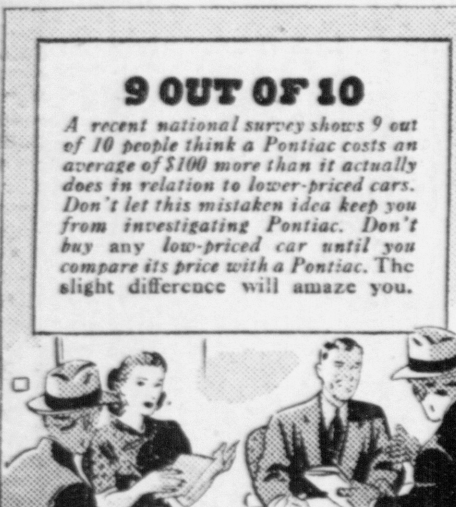

"Best buy's Buick!"

BOY SCOUT WEEK

A SCOUT, according to Webster, is one who reconnoiters, watches, observes or follows---an apt description of the Boy Scout movement whose members reconnoiter life in their scouting activities. That this effort and fellowship is beneficial, no one can deny. It not only helps boys individually to develop more perfectly, but also has proved worthwhile in making communities everywhere better places in which to live. Scouting is deserving of everyone's continued support . . . parents, businessmen and civic bodies. Are you doing your share?

Remove Trade Restraints, Says I. A. A.

Use Determines Effect Soybean Crop has on Soil

Effect on the soil of Illinois' 1939 soybean crop of 2,225,000 acres will depend largely upon the way the soybeans are handled, it is explained by O. H. Sears, associate chief in soil biology, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

In Bulletin No. 456, "Soybeans—Their Effect on Soil Productivity," which has just been issued by the agricultural college, Sears explained the effect of soybeans on the soil from the standpoint of the use to which they are put, their relation to soil fertility, the activity of soil bacteria, plant food balance in the soil and other crops in the rotation.

These have become the most debated questions of all time in soil management, as a result of the rapid expansion in soybean acreage during recent years.

"Best control of erosion on soybean fields is obtained by drilling them solid in the contour and following them with a winter cover crop of small grain also drilled on the contour," he said.

Relative to the effects of soybeans on the nitrogen content of the soil, he pointed out that unless part of the tops of the soybean plant is returned in some form to the soil, nitrogen will be depleted. This is true even though well-mulched plants may obtain about two-thirds of their nitrogen from the air.

Combining the beans and leaving the straw on the land may cause a slight increase in the nitrogen content of the soil if the added nitrogen is not lost by leaching before it can be used up by the following crop.

Used as green manure, soybeans supply organic matter containing from 60 to 100 pounds of nitrogen an acre. However, the relatively high cost of such green manure is a drawback to using soybeans for such purposes except under special conditions.

On many soils not in a high state of productivity, soybeans can utilize nutrient elements not accessible to many other crops. It is important, therefore, to return these mineral elements to the soil by fertilization if productivity at a satisfactory level is to be maintained.

On land not subject to serious erosion, the spring planted crops, corn and oats, generally do better following soybeans than fall seeded crops do where no fertilizer is applied. The reason for this is that during the considerable period between harvesting soybeans in the fall and planting a crop in the spring, physical, chemical and biological forces have time to replenish the supply of available soil nutrients.

Copies of the new bulletin, No. 456, may be obtained from local farm advisers or by writing the College of Agriculture at Urbana.

Father's Advice Heeded
When Bruce Kellow asked his father if 19 sticks of dynamite would be enough to blast out a stump on his farm in Tillamook, Ore., farm, Kellow senior jokingly replied: "Why not use 90 and do a good job?" Improving on his father's instructions, Bruce decided to use 120 sticks. Where the stump had been there is now a hole as big as a house.

Answer Given To Farm Critics At Convention

Frozen Industrial Prices Must Go Down, Speakers Assert

The answer of the Illinois State Farm Bureau organization to the flood of criticism on its crop control program was clearly set out last day of the Convention of the I. A. A. at the Stevens Hotel, February 1.

Dr. Harold Moulton of the Brookings Institution and Thurman Arnold of the U. S. Department of Justice at the convention served notice that industry and labor must quit doing the things agriculture is accused of but not guilty of.

Dr. Moulton who is research director and president of an independent economic research organization said that the lowering of industrial prices frozen at a high level is the only way out of our economic troubles. He made it plain that any group who gave less for the money in the long run made matters worse. Instance after instance was pointed out where stagnation had existed since 1929 in particular because prices were frozen at an abnormal level and production down to far less than the possible demand on a fair price basis. Usually when the over load of costs amount to 25 to 50 percent of the actual value of goods an economic jam would result. Buying power can be increased only by reducing prices. Industry and labor can reduce prices by increasing production at least 25% of the present level. Agricultural production, Moulton indicated, did not when scarcity began.

Thurman Arnold, in charge of antitrust violations stated that it was his business to see that labor and industry and agriculture did not violate the Sherman antitrust laws by conspiring to restrict trade. He pointed out in the days of Theodore Roosevelt there were four prosecutors in the department and failure resulted from an inadequate personnel. The method used to get public sentiment opposed to man power for adequate prosecution. In 1929 to 1936 the cost of the department was $300,000 and fines were only $72,000. But last year the cost was one million dollars more than in the former period or $1,300,000. A hue and cry went up over the increased cost of the Department of Justice—by the antitrust violators no doubt. The interesting thing was that fines were $2,400,000. In other words despite the increased costs the Department not only paid for itself but showed over a million dollars profit.

Arnold's plea to organized farmers was to give the Department of Justice adequate man power so that the many restraints in trade could be ferreted out and free markets again restored to the country.

Arnold pointed out that cities, villages, states, are passing ordinances, laws, etc., all intended to restrain trade and free markets. These all have to be dealt with in breaking down the thousands of unseen barriers that cause prices to stay at an abnormally high level and prolong the present economic difficulties. So far only a small part of the economic jam has been loosened. A cry goes up that trade is being prosecuted, but when prices drop 25% when prosecutions begin and labor groups cease racketeering (as witness the Chicago milk drivers) one gives less credence to the plea to let practices in restraint of trade continue.

A large number of Cook county farmers along with farmers from over the state attended the convention.

All To Benefit From Control of Land Surplus

Cooperation of producer, packer and consumer in reducing the anticipated annual surplus of half a billion pounds of land will result in financial advantage to all three, it is pointed out by Sleetor Bull, associate chief in meats, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Normal pork consumption in this country requires 70 million hogs which will produce three-fourths of a billion pounds of land above normal domestic consumption, Bull explained. Exports of a quarter of a billion pounds of land can be expected, leaving a surplus of a half billion pounds.

By intensive merchandising and by improving the quality of land offered consumers, packers should be able to stimulate the consumption in this country of another quarter of a billion pounds. Already packers are turning their attention to the production of better land and to making it possible for consumers to purchase land in attractive and convenient packages.

Consumers stand to profit from such a campaign because of the high quality of good land and because of the present price of land which is less than the price of live hogs.

The hog producer can do his part to reduce the third quarter of a billion pounds of surplus land with no sacrifice, Bull explained. If farmers were to market the 70 million hogs at 5 pounds less weight, they would abolish the surplus and make more profit from increased price for hogs and reduced cost of production.

Hogs begin to accumulate land as soon as they begin to fatten. Furthermore, as hog feeders know, the longer a hog is fed, the more feed is required to make a pound of gain.

Experiments at the College of Agriculture showed that a 200-pound hog yielded 20 pounds of land; a 225 pound hog, 32 pounds of land and a 275 pound hog, 44 pounds of land. Thus, Bull explains, it should be both easy and economical to reduce land production five or even ten pounds a hog.

However, to obtain a finished hog at 200 pounds, it is necessary to use an early maturing, medium or butcher type hog rather than the big, late maturing hog of range type.

"If hard sells below cost, the packer must pay a lower price to the farmer," Bull said. "He must also charge more for loins, hams and bacon to make up part of the loss on land. Higher prices for pork consumption, particularly among consumers of limited income. This in turn still further reduces the price of hogs to the farmer and establishes a vicious circle."

Livestock In Woods Foil Efforts In Soil Saving

Record-breaking plantings of trees in Cook county and other counties of Illinois have focused new attention upon the fact that trees and cows don't mix in a successful land-use program.

Results from LaCrosse, Wis., experiments, for instance, which are shown in the accompanying illustration, revealed that grazed woods lost 1,597 pounds of soil an acre and open pasture 693 pounds, while ungrazed woods lost only 17 pounds.

Open pasture lost less than half as much soil as a grazed timber area of approximately the same slope.

The LaCrosse results were obtained at the Upper Mississippi Valley Soil Conservation Experiment Station which serves northwestern Illinois, northeastern Iowa, southeastern Minnesota and southwestern Wisconsin.

Results such as those from the station are the reason that farmers cooperating with the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in good land-use programs fence out all woods to protect them from grazing, Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes said.

This and other good forestry practices are being followed on some 35,000 acres which farmers have planted in recent years with trees from the Illinois Department of Conservation and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service Nurseries. An additional 8,523 acres of new plantings which the U. S. Forest Service has made in the Shawnee National Forest in southern Illinois likewise are protected against grazing.

Too much of the older, established farm woodlands of the state, however, are still being grazed, according to J. E. Davis, forestry extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois and the Illinois State Natural History Survey. About 65 per cent of the 3,122,000 acres in farm woodlands in Illinois is not protected from livestock, he reported.

There is at least an additional 3,000,000 acres in the state which should be reforested and, of course, safeguarded against grazing, he said.

"If a slope must be grazed, it had much better be in grass than in trees," Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes said. "Grazing animals trample the leaf litter and destroy undergrowth and young trees, making the timbered slope vulnerable to erosion and reducing the value of the woods as a producer of lumber, firewood and fence posts."

Largest Jewel
The Smithsonian institution has acquired the world's largest jewel. The stone is an almost flawless crystal of topaz, weighing 153 pounds, or 350,000 carats. The average topaz for a ring or necklace weighs about five carats. The huge gem was discovered in the Minas Geraes province of Brazil. Its color is pale blue on the outside and a pale sherry on the inside.

Cards Nosed Out, 30-27; Palatine in First Place Alone

Mac Says

by GERALD A. MC ELROY

Will history repeat itself? Five years ago Palatine and Barrington were battling for the conference championship. The Bronchos came down to the final game undefeated and one game in the lead over the Pirates who had lost at Barrington, 36-19. In that final battle at Palatine the Pirates won a share of the championship by beating the Bronchos 20-17.

Situation In Reverse

This week marks the next to the last games of the season and finds the location reversed in that Palatine travels to Barrington. The situation is also reversed in that this time Palatine leads the conference and is one game ahead of second place Barrington. It is further reversed in that Palatine won the earlier contest between the two schools 29-21. If Palatine wins Friday's game they will have clinched the championship and Barrington will be out of the running. However Wauconda might still tie the Pirates should the latter lose to Ela. Should Barrington win on Friday it will throw the race back into a three way tie and place Palatine in the position of having to beat Ela to finish in a tie while Barrington and Wauconda are meeting second division Grant and Bensenville.

Is Palatine the Underdog?

On paper the odds seem to favor Barrington. Palatine has never beaten Barrington twice in the same season and everyone knows that the Bronchos are particularly tough on their home court which is itself generally regarded as a six point advantage. Wauconda beat Palatine and Barrington beat Wauconda. Does that make Barrington superior?

Now or Never For Bronchos

The other side of the picture shows Palatine beating Bensenville recently 51-26 while Barrington lost to Bensenville 38-26 the following week. Also the Pirates show the best scoring record and the best defensive record in the league against the same opponents Barrington has met. Furthermore the pressure is definitely upon Barrington which should help the Pirates who even if they lose still have a chance to finish on top.

Past Records Investigated

Digging into the records we have unearthed the scores of Palatine-Barrington games for the past 10 years and they give the Bronchos the edge with both the varsity and lightweight teams. Barrington has won 10 and Palatine 8 first team games since the 1930-31 season. Meanwhile the Pirates have beaten the junior Pirates nine times to five. Palatine, however, has taken four out of the seven lightweight games and five out of the nine varsity contests played in the last five seasons.

Here are the scores for 10 years:

Varsity	Pal.	Bar.
1930-31	27	9
1931-32	18	21
1932-33	22	23

Who Do We Pick?

We will let you pick the winner in the Palatine-Barrington game. We are picking Wauconda to beat Antioch, Bensenville to get out of the cellar against Northbrook, and Ela to whip Grant. In the Northeast loop our guess is Leyden to down Libertyville, Crystal Lake to trim Arlington, Niles to crush Woodstock, and Lake Forest to upstart Warren. Our record to date is 49 right and 17 wrong.

Dark Horse of Tourney

The dark horse of the district tournament right now appears to be Warren. With Anderson and McCann added to the team this semester, Warren has started to play real ball and may be the team to surprise by reaching the finals at Wauconda two weeks hence. Warren lost by only nine points to the potent Crystal Lake team a few weeks ago, then fell before a last quarter rally to lose 36-28 to Ar-

Leyden Victor In Closely Fought Game

Arlington Tornadoes Win Over Eaglets

Hard luck again overtook Arlington's Cardinals last week. The squad was cut practically in half by either illness or ineptitude. The team had to be shifted at each practice and it was not known until game time just who was able or eligible to play. Arlington lost in the final minutes, 30-27.

As it was a makeshift lineup almost won the verdict over the Leyden Eagles in a game which was close throughout, but was almost devoid of excitement until the final minutes. It was not the individual playing that cost the boys their game, but an absence of teamwork which could readily be expected after so much shifting of personnel all week.

The lead shifted back and forth several times during the game. With only a couple of minutes to go, Arlington led by a scant two points and it looked as though they were "in." However a mistake on a Leyden out of bounds play left Doss loose under the basket to tie the score and a mistake by one of the officials gave Leyden—and Doss—the opportunity to score the winning tally.

Doss was the high point man for the evening, collecting a total of 14 points. All but one of his six baskets were follow-up tip in shots after missed shots by teammates. Arlington had no one tall enough to compete with him at this phase of the game. Bogacz and McNerney were the only other Leydenites to tally from the field.

Schulenberg led Arlington in scoring from the field followed by Art Miller. These two also dominated Arlington's general play. Becker and Hauptly played good ball considering their brief span of experience on the "heavies." Bob Heinze, playing his maiden first team game, was a little over anxious and collected four fouls in about a quarter of play. Miller collected his four fouls in about a half. His loss hurt the Cardinals chances tremendously.

Arlington's rebuilt lightweights took the measure of Leyden's Eaglets Friday night, winning handily, 22-14. The teams were well matched and neither was able to put on a sustained scoring drive at any time. Leyden's aggressive defense was unable to keep the Green Tornadoes from getting open for set shots, of which they hit 23.5 percent. Arlington, on the other hand, kept the Eaglets on the run so that they hit only 7.5 percent of their hurried tosses.

Arlington blew repeated drives in shots but registered four times from beyond the free-throw line. Busse and Jarvis divided the long-range baskets evenly while Bolte and Morici halved the close-in field goals. Harth's rebound work was the backbone of the team's offense. Milay gave a fine exhibition of floor-guard offensive play, although taking few shots. Capable relief by the other boys who got in the line-up enabled Arlington to keep the pressure on throughout the game.

Matusek, Kerth, and Cundari looked best in a Leyden team which featured good passing and all-around co-operation rather than individual brilliance.

This was the eighth win for the Green Tornadoes in their last nine starts. They will have to play very good ball to continue that pace in their remaining games, since they will be meeting three of the top-ranking teams of the conference. With three of the early-season starting line-up moved up to the "heavies," the Arlington lights will be the underdogs in every one of these games.

Charley Bachman, famous grid coach of Michigan State, will be the principal speaker at an all sports banquet at Crystal Lake high school tonight. Awards will be made to championship track and football teams as well as to the cage team which appears to just about have the title clinched. The Lakers lead by two and a half games with three to play with Arlington, Libertyville, and Lake Forest so draw your own conclusion.

When Boyk made 32 points in Friday's game for Niles he broke his own record of 31 made this same season. Friday he scored 10 in the first period, five in the second, seven in the third, and 10 in the final quarter. Boyk has now collected 166 points in nine conference games for an average of 18.5 per game. With three more games against Warren, Woodstock, and Arlington the Niles ace should easily better the 200 mark and set a record that will stand for years in the new conference.

Libertyville lost their second 20-19 game in a row Tuesday when they were beaten at Lake Forest. It was the third conference defeat for the Wildcats who are still in second place but three games behind Crystal Lake with three to go. The Wildcats, recent victims of the flu, have not recovered their earlier form since their return to action. Tuesday the score was tied 10 all at the half and Libertyville led during most of the second half only to lose on a couple of last minute free throws. Lake Forest's lights took their seventh victory at the expense of Libertyville's docile Wildkittens by a count of 29-9.

We Almost Missed It

The Herald camera almost missed a bit of action on a rebound shot in the Arlington-Leyden game last Friday. Players in white are members of the Cardinal team. A good reason why they almost defeated the Leyden team is that they jumped that much higher and wrested the ball from their much taller opponents as is shown in the play by unidentified players on the extreme left. Heinze (22) and Becker (26) are Cardinals in the picture with Doss (22) and Bogasz (21), of Leyden.

Pirates Recover In Time To Save Antioch Game

Shooting Off Form But So Was Antioch

Palatine captured a double bill on the home court Friday with Antioch as the victims. The lights came back strong after their recent slump to win handily 30-13. The regulars, after a very slow start and a poor shooting record finished strong to win 26-11. The victory along with Wauconda's defeat at Barrington left the Pirates all alone on top in the conference standings with but two games left to play. By winning one more game Palatine can be assured of no worse than a tie for the title.

The Pirates started off Friday with a barrage of shots but could not make them go in or stay in the basket. Not until after 14 minutes of playing and 30 shots had been missed did Palatine finally connect for a field goal on a long shot by Snyder. Another good one by Ehret was in the air when the half time gun sounded. Meanwhile the Pirates had sunk five free throws and had a 9-8 lead at the half. Antioch had been in front 4-2 at the quarter. In the third period Hollinger, Fink, and Snyder connected from the field and Palatine led 16-11. The best ball was played in the last quarter when the Pirates concentrated on keeping possession of the ball and by so doing shut out the visitors and themselves collected 10 points. Hildebrandt with five points and Hollinger with four led the last period scoring.

All the Pirates but Hildebrandt and Ehret had poor shooting percentages and the team record was nine goals in 57 shots for 15.7 percent. It was lucky for Palatine that Antioch was also poor on their shooting. The Indians made only four goals in 37 attempts for a 10.8 percent. The one bright spot in Palatine's playing was DeBerge's defensive work.

The Palatine lights played a fast passing and fast breaking game which carried them to an early lead which was never threatened. Harris scored the first seven points as a result of accurate passing by the Pirate guards who got the ball away quickly on a fast break. In all Harris got nine points and Salvo eight. Birks and Godknecht, the Palatine guards, played their best of the season and kept the team going at a fast pace throughout the game. Palatine led 15-6 at the half.

Wauconda Dislodged From First Place By Barrington 39-32

Barrington pushed Wauconda into second place and left Palatine alone at the head of the Northwest conference by defeating Herrmann's Bulldogs 39-32 in a hard

Boyk Rolls Up Record 32 Points

With Eddie Boyk setting a conference record with 32 points, Niles outscored Lake Forest 57-38 in Friday's game. The Scouts had previously defeated both Niles teams. Niles lights beat Lake Forest 23-14 and gained a first place tie in the standings as Crystal Lake took their second straight trouncing at Woodstock.

It was all Boyk Friday as the Niles star broke his own record of 31 points scored earlier in the season. Niles led 24-22 at the half but the second half pace was too fast for a Lake Forest team which lacked reserve strength due to injuries. Karsten scored 17 points for Lake Forest, but was overshadowed by Boyk's feat.

fought battle. Barrington's lights swamped the visitors 45-11 to stay on top in the junior division.

Wauconda led 19-18 at the half of the feature game but the Bronchos got a hot streak of shooting for which they are famous on their home court, and ran up a third period count of 34-23. Wauconda came back strong in the final quarter but the damage was done.
